ROUTES DU BONHEUR Among the Douro valley vineyards

Deep in the Douro Valley, vineyards form geometric patterns that turn the countryside into a work of art. In this long-arid landscape, the inhabitants chose to devote their lives to wine. The quintas – the term for the region's wine estates – rise above the river on all sides, reached by breathtaking winding roads. Moving inland from the Atlantic coast, from Porto to Sabrosa, experience the intense emotions felt in exploring this region, listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site since 2001.

( 1 property available )

The Yeatman

Hotel and restaurant in town. Sit back on the terrace of your room and admire the panoramic view: beneath your eyes, Porto, a Unesco World Heritage site, and the sinuous curves of the Douro river. The Yeatman, located in the heart of Vila Nova de Gaia–the historical headquarters of the Port wine houses–owes its name to a family of British traders who are still active: this legacy is told through the décor of the rooms and a great collection of Portuguese wines. The chef showcases contemporary gastronomy, with food and wine pairing an important part of the dining experience. The final touch is the choice of treatments available at The Yeatman Wine Spa–an oasis of harmony and well-being.
