

ROUTES DU BONHEUR From Yosemite National Park to the Pacific, a trip to Southern California

It's not just Hollywood: all of California seems to be a movie set. From Yosemite National Park to the Golden Gate Bridge, from the sumptuous coastal highway (Highway 1) to Venice Beach and the surfing beaches of San Diego, take a trip behind the wheel of a beautiful American convertible. Along the Pacific coast, the awe-inspiring Big Sur Coast Highway will lead you in the footsteps of Jack Kerouac, Henry Miller, Sharon Stone and Clint Eastwood, all to the tunes of the Beach Boys, Red Hot Chili Peppers and Kendrick Lamar...

( 1 property available )

Château du Sureau

Hotel and restaurant in the mountains. The Château du Sureau is the ideal place from which to explore the waterfalls and granite domes of Yosemite National Park, one of America’s most spectacular natural sites. This majestic hotel is reminiscent of the finest European châteaux. Its elegant interior, with guest rooms named after herbs and flowers, is resplendent with antiques, tapestries and artworks. The restaurant showcases the freshest Californian produce in sophisticated dishes packed with flavor and accompanied by the region’s best wines. If you are lucky enough to visit on July, you will be treated to the Elderberry Harvest Dinner, a fabulous five-course feast in honor of the château’s namesake.

2 CARMEL BY THE SEA — 2 NIGHTS

( 1 property available )

L'Auberge Carmel

Restaurant and hotel in town. Henry Miller said that he learned to pray in front of the stunning scenery of Big Sur. Carmel-by-the-Sea is the ideal base for marveling at these immense cliffs plunging down into the ocean. Halfway between San Francisco and the Santa Barbara coast, inhabited by seals and whales, Carmel - where Clint Eastwood was once mayor - will charm you with its art galleries and pebble beaches. This romantic hotel, decorated with lovely European fabrics and antiques, is ideally located in the heart of the village, a pleasant short walk away from the famous Carmel Beach. The delicious cuisine, a well-stocked wine cellar and superb massages will give it a special place in your heart.
